

Intelligent Broadband Networks

Grow revenue by rapidly deploying innovative services your subscribers want

It's no secret that ARPU is declining.

Increased competition and a lack of easy sources of growth mean that communications service providers need to create new revenue sources while maximizing existing ones.

Our expertise and policy control platform help you create innovative services built around real subscriber demand, so you can outpace the competition and reap the revenue rewards.

Do more, with Sandvine.

Subscriber Services

Grow Your Revenue

No matter your market, no matter your network, we can help you grow your revenue.

Whether you're a wireless operator looking to disrupt the market with bite-size plans, or a fixed operator looking to increase customer satisfaction with data rollover, we can help you to deploy the services your customers want.

Reach the Market Fast

Market opportunities don't last forever, and the revenue goes to those who move the quickest.

Our tools, standards support, and proven interoperability let you quickly design and deploy powerful subscriber services. With Sandvine, you can take advantage of short-term opportunities, get to market faster than the competition, and become the innovator in your market.

Trust Our Expertise

We are the unquestioned global experts in subscriber services innovation, with hundreds of deployments worldwide.

Our customers have been seizing market share, improving customer loyalty, and unlocking new sources of revenue, while their competitors struggle with revenue leakage and service plans that don't work as expected.
